A TOAST

In a Student Body vote in the spring of 1958, the decision was made to form a Student Union to co-ordinate campus activities at Wake Forest College. This gesture created a new position in the administration - Director of Student Affairs. More than this it brought to our campus an alumnus who has in three short years won our confidence, trust, respect, and friendship.

To supplement this place that he has obtained in our college lives, we, the Class of 1961, now have an opportunity to express our appreciation in a more tangible form. Acknowledging his superior contributions to our college, we dedicate the 1961 Howler to

MARK HOLCOMB REECE

- A man who recognizes student abilities;
- A man who champions student rights;
- A man who believes in equal opportunities for all students;
- A man who strives to keep the various student factions in harmony;
- A man who is never too busy to understand a problem;
- A man whose casual manner and youthful attitudes develop friendships readily;
- A man whose ideas further the progress of our institution; and
- A man whose foremost objective is the good of Wake Forest College.

The Reeces join with students in listening to the Four Freshmen.

Off to plan a Nassau tour!

It is with deepest honor and pleasure that the yearbook staff presents to you the annual thirty-second edition of the Howler. In planning and designing the yearbook, the staff worked with only one purpose or thought in mind and that was to retain your most cherished, exciting and memorable experiences of this college year.

The Wake Forest Campus and the complete surrounding atmosphere is one of casualness and friendliness. We have given you a yearbook composed with a casual setting in mind. In addition, Wake Forest continues to carry many of the traditions upon which she was founded and which are so dear to all who are members of the Wake Forest family. As you browse through these pages which will highlight your more significant activities, we hope you will also remember the traditions which have made Wake Forest what it is today.

Just as the engineers used the grillwork structure to beautify the campus, the staff used the grillwork theme throughout the book to beautify your Howler. We endeavored to include all the activities and events that will be most pleasurable to you in your reminiscent moments during later years. The staff sincerely hopes you are pleased and will be able to accept with acquiescence our pictorial conception of Wake Forest in 1960-61.

ADMINISTRATION

Memory keeps bright two experiences of viewing the campus from the air. The first was one day before construction was started on the first building. A friend took me in his small two-seater plane and circled the campus several times. The second was after the first building stage was completed and three years after we moved from the old campus. I was returning with our football team from a victorious game. It was a beautiful morning with a bright sun and a clear sky. We circled the campus twice and the panoramic view was inspiring. Much planning and hard work by many people went into the changes that took place between the two experiences. What I saw the first time was the potential, the place for a vision to be embraced and realized. What I saw the second time was the reality in living dimensions. I shall always cherish the memories of both plane trips and the panoramic pictures.

When the members of the 1961 class browse through this HOWLER, I fancy they will recall their views and impressions when they matriculated as freshmen, before a textbook had been opened or a lecture had been attended, and compare them with their views and impressions of the completed college course. And I trust that every turning of a page will make the experiences here productive of incentive to greater achievement in nobler endeavor.

When the first handful of women students came to the Wake Forest College campus in 1942, they were welcomed by the quiet smile of a lady who has become the most beloved and influential woman in the history of the college—the Dean of Women, Miss Lois Johnson. In the 19 years hence, she has carefully nurtured the growth of women enrollment from a few to nearly four hundred with visions of a double increase in the future.

It must have been difficult for women to invade the all-male atmosphere of Wake Forest College as it had existed for over a hundred years. A new tradition had to be engendered in the roots of a college community. Miss Johnson met the task with the quiet determination that has captured the respect of everyone and the dedication to the vow that her girls would be the best. It is for her that they have been.

The greatest interest and concern she has borne for every girl, and each has felt the personal touch of a woman who regards the welfare of her girls as her foremost responsibility. With her advice, problems become minute, solutions lucid, and the role of womanhood a tribute.

Miss Johnson will leave an indelible mark upon the college and the lives of those whom she so conscientiously guides. To us all, she is an ideal, a virtue, and a friend.

ORA CLARI BRADBURY

The years during which Dr. Bradbury has taught at Wake Forest since 1925 have been years of the greatest growth for the college. In 1938 he became chairman of the biology department, following Dr. W. L. Porcar, and under his leadership the department has shown a remarkable growth.

"Dr. Brad" has always been a devoted teacher and his interest in students is legendary. For years he has found many hours, in addition to a full teaching load, departmental duties, and work on important committees of the College, for quiet and productive counseling with students. Many a student will remember his probing questions and quiet chuckle long after the subject matter is forgotten, although they are unlikely to forget much after his thorough presentation of the subject. Many a physician, now practicing, will give eloquent thanks for the tough-minded preparation he received with Dr. Bradbury.

After a spirited and long ranging discussion which may have started out concerning developmental mechanics or insect structure a student leaves the laboratory feeling that he understands better not only living things but life itself.

Dr. Ora C. Bradbury

Professor Kenneth T. Raynor

KENNETH TYSON RAYNOR

Almost nine student generations at Wake Forest College have benefited from and enjoyed the personalized teaching techniques of Professor Kenneth T. Raynor. There are few of his past students who do not recall the prevalence, in and out of the classroom, of clear, patient explanations, keen sense of humor, and ability to make significant comments on diverse subjects.

If one were to attend a function where Wake Forest graduates were gathered, he would see men approach Professor Raynor with outstretched hands and expressions of genuine pleasure at greeting an old friend, and he would see teacher and student once again sharing what they had known at Wake Forest.

From the time that he was an outstanding student at Wake Forest, Professor Raynor has shown his devotion to the college in many ways, for his 35 years of teaching are illuminated by his support of athletics, student functions, and students in general, and by his serving as director of the glee club and orchestra for several years.

The words of dedication of the 1947 HOWLER are even more appropriate today: "Among our faculty and students Professor Kenneth T. Raynor long will be known and loved. He has never sung his own praises but has modestly served this college with the best of his excellent ability."

OUTSTANDING

When the Class of 1961 came to the campus of Wake Forest College, all were on the same level—poor, inexperienced Freshmen with no one to lead them but well-versed upperclassmen and understanding faculty. As the sophomore and junior years wore on, faces became names, names became faces, and class leaders began to emerge gradually from the obscurity of numbers.

Then came the final year with its varied hopes, ideas, and plans. It was a year of dignity mingled with responsibility and prolonged work for those Seniors who who contributed so much to campus life. They gave up much that was theirs in the best interests of all. In recognition of their superior contributions, the members of their class bestowed upon them the coveted honor—Outstanding Seniors in the Class of 1961.

Vic Smith, I.F.C. President; leader in fraternity affairs; head cheerleader.

Bobby Allen, outstanding football star, leader in campus life and religious activities.

SENIORS

George Williamson, Treasurer of the Student Body; President of O.D.K.; distinguished in religious activities.

Betty Bruce Howard, President of the Woman's Government Association; outstanding as leader and scholar.

Howard Bullard, Student Body President; leader in Military Science and fraternity activities.

Bill Strum, Chapel Speaker; outstanding in Student Government and debate.

Norman Snead, Wake Forest ace quarterback; Co-Captain of 1960 team; All Conference and "Time" All-American.

Mary Gail Kooz, Co-Editor of HOWLER; outstanding in publications; versatile campus leader.

The School of Law of Wake Forest College was established in 1894 under the able leadership of Dr. N. Y. Gully.

It is the product of 67 years of experience and growth. It is fully approved by all national and state accrediting agencies.

The curriculum of the Law School is designed to afford comprehensive and thorough training in the broad field of legal education and to equip students to practice in any jurisdiction where the Anglo-American law systems prevail.

Each student has access to the Law School Library which contains a carefully selected working collection of legal materials of about 29,000 volumes.

Through the Balcock Foundation a number of scholarships are now available to students and has made available 5 full-tuition scholarships for three full years of study. These scholarships are in addition to several scholarships, in lesser amounts, offered by the College.

A Visiting Professor program was initiated this year.

Dr. Warren A. Seavey, distinguished Professor of Law of Harvard University, served on the faculty in this capacity for the 1960-1961 school year.

The Student Bar Association, affiliated with the American Law Student Association, provides the student body with the machinery for the student government of the school and furnishes an opportunity for each student to participate in various activities which are of particular interest to him. Among the activities sponsored by the Association are: an Orientation program for beginning students, the Fall Banquet, the Student Lounge, the Book Exchange, and the annual Law Day program. This year the Student Bar Association published an alumni bulletin with information on the graduating students and news of the Law School.

In addition to the Student Bar activities the Law School has two active chapters of national legal fraternities, Phi Alpha Delta and Phi Delta Phi. The fraternities play a vital role in the student's legal education and they make a valuable contribution to the Law School through their various programs.

PHI DELTA PHI

Ruffin Inn of Phi Delta Phi was chartered on the Wake Forest Campus in 1947, becoming a member of the oldest legal fraternity in America. The name of the chapter was taken from Justice Thomas Ruffin, one of the most outstanding Justices of the North Carolina Supreme Court.

Ruffin Inn stresses scholarship and brotherhood among its members in the legal profession.

Under the leadership of its magister, Henry Mitchell, this has been a most successful year. Phi Delta Phi was presented the Scholarship Trophy for the thirteenth successive year, the Legal Eagles captured the independent crown in football; and the year culminated with the Initiation Ceremony before the Supreme Court Justices in Raleigh.

PHI ALPHA DELTA

To a student in the Wake Forest Law School, study of the law is more than work in the classrooms and preparing assignments: it is an association with the law at all times and with all persons. To further this association, the Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity plans its yearly activities to give its members and pledges the utmost contact with law at all times, whether it be an attorney speaking at a meeting of the fraternity or a bull session at two in the morning about current affairs and international law. The fraternity acts as a second law school for it offers the student a chance to get together, talk over problems, work out the solutions, to argue points and to enjoy the acquaintance with and advice of prominent members of the legal profession. Phi Alpha Delta's primary purpose is to give the student a chance to live with the law in every sense of the word.

ATHLETICS

Athletic Director, Bill Gibson; Assistant Athletic Director, Jesse Haddock.

Every Saturday afternoon in the fall of the year, many football games are played. With the toss of the coin, some are lost, some are won. Throughout the season, spectators accord much praise to many performers, but few fans realize the amount of time and energy which is put into the making of a star team. In the space of one hundred yards culminates the work and trials of the men behind the scenes who seldom receive cheers. They are not directly mentioned when the matter of yards gained and lost and the number of points scored are published. But they form an integral part of a winning combination and, in a way, are just as vital to the team as the players.

Athletic Director, Bill Gibson, Assistant Athletic Director, Jesse Haddock; Coach Billy Hildebrand; Trainer, "Doc" Martin, and manager Buddy Norwood are always there watching their team go into action. Each sees and lives the game as it progresses and is proud of knowing that he is doing something to help the team play and win.

Two seasons previously Bill Gibson and Jesse Haddock have scheduled the games that are to be played. Billy Hildebrand has followed these schedules and has produced this year one of the finest teams in the history of Wake Forest College. "Doc" Martin continues to keep the boys physically fit while Buddy Norwood packs and cares for the equipment essential for maintaining a No. 1 team.

These are the men in the background at Wake Forest who endeavor to give us the best Deacon team possible. It is their sacrifices which enables the boys on the field to play to the utmost of their ability. Because of the efforts of these men do we owe our support and encouragement. To you, we say . . . Thanks a million.

As one of the smallest schools in the country to play conference sports, Wake Forest has had its problems in winning football games. It has been difficult to take all the bad breaks lightly, either as a spectator or more directly as a player. However often it may be repeated, the team puts just as much work into a game they lose as one which they win. One consolation was our win over arch-rival North Carolina. Then several members of the squad won individual honors in the Blue-Gray and the Senior Bowl Games. Norman Snead, Wayne Wolf, and Bobby Allen played in the Blue-Gray game. Snead made a second appearance in the Senior Bowl, throwing four touchdown passes. With twenty-nine seconds left Snead threw a fifty-two yard touchdown pass that clinched the game for the South.

Many of us don't realize what a tough job it is to play collegiate football. From August thirty-first until the first game of the season, the players go through a rigorous schedule of conditioning and learning plays. Their day starts at six a.m., and the last practice usually ends about six p.m. After putting in all this hard work and long hours, it is hard for the team to ignore losses. They want to win even more than the students as some consolation for their efforts before and during the season.

We have always expected wonders from a group of boys who bring Wake Forest up against larger and more powerful teams than themselves and manage to avert losses only through an all-powerful determination to win and a sincere love for the game. When these facts are taken into consideration, one can see that the football team deserves our whole-hearted support . . . win, lose, or tie.

Head Football Coach, Bill Hildebrand.

WAKE FOREST VS CLEMSON

With great expectations for one of the best football teams in many years, the Wake Forest Demon Deacons opened their 1960 football season with the Clemson Tigers before 22,000 fans at Bowman-Gray Stadium in Winston-Salem. The Tigers of Frank Howard, however, were not keen on allowing the Deacons to start the season on a winning note, and Clemson emerged the victor by a 28-7 count.

Wake, in its first start under the helm of head mentor Billy Hildebrand, displayed a very potent defense against the running efforts of Clemson; but the Deacons were never able to utilize their vaunted passing attack to full advantage. Norman Sneed, the Deacons' outstanding quarterback completed 10 of 22 passes, but he gained only 90 yards in the air, and had three of his passes intercepted. Clemson, on the other hand, found out that they couldn't run against the Deacon defenses and turned to the air. The Tigers gained 170 yards via this route. Wendall Black gathered in the errant pigskin on the Tiger 48 and scampered to the Deac 3. Three plays later, Bill McGuirt scored for the Tigers.

The game was not over yet, however; the Deacs came back in the second period to go 60 yards in 10 plays for a touchdown, and the score was tied at 7-7.

In the third period neither team made any serious threat to score, but in the final stanza the Tigers led the game by scoring three times.

WAKE FOREST VS N. C. STATE

Wake and N. C. State each played one half of good football in their meeting in Bowman-Gray Stadium, and when the whistle blew, the Wolfpack, due to two perfect extra-point boors by Nick Maravich, had won the game, 14-12.

The first half was State's. Behind the running and passing of Roman Gabriel, the Wolfpack drove to two touchdowns in the second period after an initial threat had been thwarted on the Deacon four. In the first scoring march of 80 yards, Gabriel needed four tries to get the ball across the goal after State had reached the two, but he finally succeeded and the Wolfpack was ahead by six. Then came Maravich's perfect placement which turned out to be the winning point. Moments later State scored again with an eight yard pass play to end Jim Tapp, culminating the drive, Maravich again converted.

The second half was all Wake Forest. Four times the Deacons drove into deep State territory, cashing in on two of the opportunities. After receiving a punt on the State 45, Snead fired two quick strikes to Bobby Allen, and the Deacs were back in the game. The scoring play covered 22 yards. Snead's attempted conversion hit one of the uprights and bounded away.

In the final period Wake drove 79 yards for another score in only three plays, all passes. The first was a 31 yarder to Alan White; Joe Bonecutter then hauled one in for a ten yard gain. On the next play Snead hit Allen again for the touchdown. Another pass to Allen for the two-point conversion was batted down, and Wake couldn't manage another drive during the rest of the game.

WAKE FOREST VS DUKE

Homecoming day dawned bright and clear in Winsron-Salem, but the outcome of the day's football game was far from bright. Although Wake was able to play the Devils to a standstill in the first two quarters, in the final half the Blue Devils turned on the steam to turn back the Deacs 34-7.

Duke's first score came on a 15 yard pass from Don Altman to Tee Moorman. The Blue Devils had driven all the way from their own 19 for the touchdown. Art Browning's try for point was missed and Duke led 6-0.

After the ball had changed hands six times, the Deacs put on their scoring drive. Wake marched from its own 47 yard line in 4 plays for the touchdown, the big play being a 43 yard screen pass to Jack Tesh. Tesh, taking the ball in the left flat, scooted 45 yards down the left sideline before he was bounced out of bounds on the Duke 10. Tesh got a lot of help on his run by excellent blocking by his teammates. On the next play Snead dropped back to pass and spotted Bobby Allen open in the end zone. Allen gathered in the toss as he streaked across the end zone just inside the back line. Snead immediately converted, and Wake led 7-6.

This lead was to be short lived, however. Four minutes later the Dukes had scored again on a two-yard around end jaunt by Walt Rappold. Rappold passed to Dean Wright for the two-point conversion play, and the Blue Devils were never headed.

UNC VS WAKE FOREST

The first victory of the season for the Demon Deacons could not have come over a more fitting opponent. Playing traditional rival, Carolina, in Chapel Hill, the Deacons unveiled an adequate running attack to make up for a bad day in the air lanes to come from behind in the final minutes of play to score the go-ahead touchdown and win by one point, 13-12.

At the beginning of the game the Deacons seemed lifeless, and the Tar Heels looked as if they might break the game wide open. Taking the opening kick-off on their own 30, the Tar Heels quickly moved 70 yards for the score. Bob Elliott banged over the goal from seven yards out, but the two-point conversion attempt failed as Ward Marslander's pass fell incomplete.

The Deacons came to life later in the first quarter, however, as an interception by Wake fullback Bruce McDonnell gave the Deacons the ball on the Carolina 47. Sticking to the ground, Wake made the distance to paydirt in 8 plays. Bobby Robinson scored from the seven on fourth down, and Snead, making his first extra point attempt in college, booted the point after. Wake led 7-6.

No scoring took place in the second and third quarters, but in the final period Carolina gained possession on their own 43 and drove for the score in 11 plays. Expertly guided by Snead, the Deacons again played the ball, and the tall slinger hit sophomore halfback Donnie Frederick for the touchdown, winning 13-12.

MARYLAND VS WAKE FOREST

Fresh from their one-point victory over the University of North Carolina, the Demon Deacs returned home to battle the University of Maryland, but the Terps, taking advantage of the only two good opportunities they had to score, turned the tables on Wake and beat the Deacs by one point, 14-13.

Wake's inability to push the ball over that last yard stripe spelled the Deacs' doom. In the first quarter Norman Snead engineered two Deacon drives deep into Maryland territory, but both ran out of gas inside the thirty. The first was stopped on the 27, and the second got as far as the Terrapin nine before coming to a standstill.

Finally on their third try, the Deacs were able to score. Fielding a Terrapin punt on the Maryland 44, Chuck Reiley ran the ball back to the 41, and Wake scored in 2 plays. Big Bill Hull tallied on a 32 yard pass from Snead, and Snead converted to give Wake a 7-0 lead early in the second quarter.

Maryland soon scored, however, and added a two-point conversion play to go ahead of the Deacs at halftime, 8-7.

After intermission Wake scored early, with Snead's passing gaining most of the yardage on a 53 yard march. Bobby Robinson sped around his own right end for the touchdown after Hull had set up the score by snagging a 32 yard toss from Snead.

Taking the following kickoff, the Terps drove 63 yards in 17 plays for a score. After scoring, the Terps failed to convert, but the damage had been done. Maryland won 14-13.

WAKE FOREST VS VIRGINIA

The Deacs spoiled the University of Virginia's homecoming by outlasting the Cavaliers in a high-scoring affair, 28-20. Wake tallied three times in the first half and once in the third stanza and then had to fight off a determined Virginia team in the final minutes of play to preserve the victory.

The first time Wake gained possession of the pigskin, the Deacs proceeded to march 59 yards for a score, with Jerry Ball and Bobby Robinson gaining most of the yardage in line thrusts. Donnie Frederick culminated the drive with a two-yard scoring plunge, and Snead converted to make the score 7-0.

Several minutes later the Deacons had another touch-down. After receiving the kickoff, Virginia's Carl Kuhn's pass was intercepted by Chuck Reiley on the Virginia 45, and on the first down Snead handed off to Frederick over left tackle, and the fleet halfback went the distance. Snead again converted.

Virginia came back, however, late in the second quarter to score and cut the gap to six points, but the Deacs scored again in the last minute and 43 seconds of the half to go into the dressing room at intermission with a 15 point lead. Bobby Allen earned scoring honors this time by snagging an 11 yard toss from Snead.

After receiving the second half kickoff, the Deacs scored again in seven plays, and Snead converted.

Virginia did score twice in the final period, however, and the final gun found the Cavaliers in Wake territory trying desperately to pull the game out of the fire.

WAKE FOREST VS FLORIDA STATE

Down in sunny Florida, Wake Forest went up against its second foe of the young season, Florida State University; but victory again was to elude the grasp of the fighting Deacs. Five times the Deacons penetrated within the Florida State 20, but they were able to cash in on only one of these opportunities while Florida State racked up two touchdowns to win 14-7.

Taking the ball after the opening kickoff, the Deacs moved from their own 34 to paydirt. Jerry Ball scored on a 3 yard pass play from Norman Sneed.

Florida State, however, after regaining possession of the ball drove to the Wake one-foot line before center Jimmy Lanier rose to the occasion and stopped halfback Bud Whitehead short of the goal. Receiving the ball so deep in their own territory, Wake was forced to punt, and Florida State took the kick and scored in 10 plays under the leadership of sub quarterback Ed Trancygier. Trancygier passed to end George Hillman for the score, and guard Ken Kestner converted to make the score 7-6 in favor of Florida State.

Once later in the second quarter and twice in the third period, the Deacs threatened, but each time they were thwarted by the Seminoles. Once they got to the Florida State one-yard line, but a fourth down plunge by fullback Joe Bonecutter fell a foot short, and Florida State took over.

After Whitehead scored the Seminoles' insurance touchdown, the Deacs had a minute and 58 seconds in which to score, but time ran out with Wake on the Seminole 15.

WAKE FOREST VS VPI

Winless in their first two starts of the season, Wake Forest's Deacons tried hard to get into the win column with a victory over VPI, but Frank Moseley's charges, utilizing a devastating running attack to offset the Deacs' potent passing game, wound up on the long end of the final score, 22-13.

Wake scored first early in the second period on a 61 yard drive. After an interception and 37 yard return by Chuck Reiley, the Deacs moved in five plays from their own 39 for the score. The big play of the series was a 42 yard pass from Sneed to halfback Alan White who was stopped on the Gobbler six. Three plays later halfback Bobby Robinson scampered across for the touchdown. Wayne Wolf's try for point was blocked by Bob Crabtree.

Taking the ensuing kick-off, the Gobblers drove 63 yards for their first score, with Terry Stroek, doing the honors on a 2 yard pass. Minutes later the Gobblers recovered a Joe Bonecutter fumble on Wake's 28, and in six plays the Tech men had scored again. Quarterback Warren Price scored both the touchdown and the two extra points, and the half ended with VPI ahead, 15-6.

With five minutes left, however, the Deacs came back to score. Wolf converted, and the score was 15-13, VPI.

Wake again regained possession of the ball and moved deep into Gobbler territory, but Bobby Watkins intercepted a Sneed aerial on the VPI 18 and scampered 82 yards for the final score.

WAKE FOREST VS LSU

Displaying a rugged defense against the rushing efforts of Wake Forest, the Louisiana State University football team put on an excellent ground attack to defeat the Demon Deacons, 16-0, in the first gridiron meeting in the history of the two schools. Quarterback Norman Sneed did complete 13 of 28 passes (5 additional ones were dropped), but the Deacs were never able to get inside the LSU 18.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Bayou Bengals scored on a two-yard plunge by Bo Campbell, which climaxed a 52 yard drive. The extra-point attempt by Wendall Harris was blocked by Jack Tesh. LSU then kicked off to the Deacons, and Alan White returned the pigskin to the Wake 36. Several plays later found Wake on the LSU 32, but a pass to Joe Bonecutter was fumbled on the 18, and Tommy Neck recovered for LSU. The Deacons never threatened seriously again although they did get to the LSU 31 in the third quarter.

LSU, however, did score again. Harris kicked a 21 yard field goal, and the final touchdown came on a 22 yard pass from quarterback Lynn Amadee to end Robert Flurry. Harris converted, and the score was 16-0.

Wake Forest managed to get to the LSU 42 after receiving the ensuing kickoff, but Harris intercepted a Sneed aerial on the Bengal 23 and returned the pigskin to the 46. Sneed's passing could not conjure up another threat, and Wake suffered its seventh defeat of the season.

Allen clears a path for Bonecutter.

WAKE FOREST VS USC

In an almost complete reversal of last year's contest, the Demon Deacs went down to their eighth defeat of the season at the hands of the University of South Carolina. At halftime the Deacs trailed by only one point, 15-14, but in the final two periods South Carolina broke the game wide open with a powerful running attack, and the game ended with Wake on the short end of a 41-20 score.

Despite the one-sided score the Deacs were able to gain 356 yards on offense. Most of the credit for this large total goes to the Deacons' ace quarterback, Norman Sneed. Sneed, playing his last collegiate game, put on a spectacular display of passing. Two tosses were good for touchdowns, and when the afternoon was over, Sneed had added two new records to the Atlantic Coast Conference record book.

Wake appeared to have the game well under control in the first period. When the second time the Deacs got their hands on the ball, Sneed dropped back from his own 38 and fired a strike to Jack Tesh who was speeding down the left sideline. Gathering in the pigskin on the Gamecock 35, Tesh raced the rest of the way, untouched.

South Carolina, however, came right back after Wake's kickoff and scored before the end of the first quarter. In the second period both teams scored once, and the Gamecocks maintained a one point lead.

In the final half the Deacon defense fell apart, and the Gamecocks scored four touchdowns to Wake's one to make a runaway of the game.

BASKETBALL

Head Coach, Horace "Bones" McKinney; Assistant Coach, Charlie Bryant.

Wake Forest ended a successful basketball season boasting the ACC Conference championship and a record of 17 wins and 10 losses. By finishing first in the ACC playoffs, the Deacons were rated in the top ten teams of the nation at the end of the ACC conference play. The preacher-genius behind the Deacs progress is no less than this year's ACC Coach-of-the-Year, Horace (Bones) McKinney. This is the second consecutive year that Bones has received this honor.

With a slow start of two losses, one of which was to Davidson, the team soon got into swing and chalked up four wins before the Dixie Classics. Going to the Classics as defending champions, the Deacs were edged out of the running by a loss to Marquette, followed by a second loss to N. C. State. Rebounding from this slump, the team came back strong with four victories out of the next five games, including an impressive nationally televised win over N. C. State. Then by trouncing South Carolina in the final game of the regular season and overwhelming Maryland and Duke, the Deacons won the well-earned conference championship.

With the return of Packer, Chappell, and Hull, we are looking forward next year to another successful season in the ACC.

Wake Forest culminated an era this year with the winning of the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball crown. Returning as last year's Dixie Classic Champions, the Deacons won their first Atlantic Coast title by routing the defending champion Duke. Before a capacity crowd in Reynolds Coliseum, big Lennie Chappell and little Billy Packer powered the Deacs to the '96-'71 win over the Blue Devils.

Lennie Chappell and Billy Packer have also been named to the All-ACC basketball team. Chappell has in addition received second-honorable-mention from the Associated Press in its All American selections. Praise is likewise due for the entire basketball team and coaching staff who had a part in helping us acquire the 1960-61 ACC championship.

If one is anywhere in the vicinity of William Neal Reynolds Gymnasium on a weekday morning about 9:00, he is likely to catch sight of a tall figure striding toward the entrance of the gym with a briefcase and an empty Pepsi-Cola bottle in tow.

Since coming to Wake Forest in 1952 as assistant basketball coach Bones has become something of a legend among basketball fans. In addition to his basketball savvy, he is widely known for his bench antics during a game.

Bones became the head coach of the Demon Deacon basketballers in the spring of 1957. Since that time he has led his team to numerous victories among them a 62-59 win over UNC in the finals of the 1959 Dixie Classic.

Wake Forest is indeed blessed to have such a fine coach as Bones McKinney associated with her athletic program. Under Bones' direction Deacon basketball fortunes will certainly rise to greater heights in the future.

The 1960 edition of the Deacon Deacon baseball team finished fifth in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a seven-seven record. However, the overall record looked much better with fourteen wins and seven losses, winning all non-conference games. Charlie Forte led the team in batting with thirty hits out of eighty-four times at bat for a .357 percentage, and we scored 127 times in comparison to 104 times for our opponents. Jerry Goodman led the individual scoring with twenty-four tallies. We started the season very successfully, winning nine out of the first ten games; and then, with the advent of a few injuries, the team slumped a bit, losing to Duke and Clemson, snapped back to beat Clemson and South Carolina and slowed again losing to North Carolina, Maryland, and N. C. State.

Bob Plemmons was the backbone of the pitching staff, having pitched in eleven games and winning six. Bob will be back again this year along with Jerry Galchouse to spearhead the attack against the other conference teams as well as Kent State (Ohio) and Rollins (Florida) which round out a larger and more grueling schedule. Departing seniors from the 1960 squad were Charlie Forte, Aubrey Currie, Bobby Brown, Jerry West, and Walt Lang.

WRESTLING

The Wake Forest wrestling team opened its season with an impressive 30 to 8 victory over South West High School. Although this is a remarkable win, the team was seriously hurt with the loss of some of last year's teammates. A constant effort is being put forth to encourage and initiate new members. This impressive record has created some successful interests, and currently eight freshmen are engaged in active wrestling.

The coaching of Clyde Wooten has done much to improve the Deacon grapplers, and under his guidance the team hopes to schedule more meets during the season. The new wrestlers hope to get some more experience under their belts with two important meets, one with Pfeiffer and one with The University of North Carolina. With the advent of these promising freshmen, we are looking forward to a larger and more powerful team next year.

First row, J. W. Sipes, M. Nesser, L. Hardham, M. Alexander. Second Row, L. Baker, J. Bray, A. Hunt, B. Bentz.

SWIMMING

Bob Rathbone, Gene Petras, Captains; Coach Ellison.

Rathbone surfaces for air.

The Wake Forest varsity swimming team is expected to show great improvement this year with all of the lettermen returning. Backed up by some promising sophomores, Coach Ellison desires to better last year's record of three victories and seven losses. Much advancement is hoped for, especially in the long distance swimming. The whole team is anticipating a handsome show of medals when the season is finished. The 1960-61 Natators are headed by former high school All-Americans, co-captains Gene Petras and Bob Rathbone. Although they are only Juniors, these two consistent point winners are to constitute the spearhead of the meets with Rathbone in the 50 yard free style and 200 yard back stroke and Petras in the 200 yard breast stroke and 200 yard individual medley. Launching the attack from behind will be Sandy Ensinger and Sonny Poston in the back stroke and Ban Ashcraft in the breast stroke. A good showing is also expected from veteran Roddy Thompson in the 250 and 500 yard free style.

TRACK

Up and over for a record.

Captain Watt White and Coach Jordan.

The best efforts of the 1960 track squad nearly defeated N. C. State, High Point College and V. P. I., but this was the best we could offer in a winless season. Too many members had to be used repeatedly in order to give the team a single entry in some events. Coach Jordan has emphasized that along with the problem of attracting the men and holding their interest, the lack of financial aid to athletes makes it difficult for Wake Forest to compete against the other larger schools in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Last year our Freshmen were victorious over Clemson, Davidson, Guilford's varsity squad and V. P. I., and lost by only a few points to N. C. State. Potentially, we have the necessary talent. Last year Watt White was outstanding in the one hundred yard dash and still holds the school record in the 220. Sam Jordan was outstanding in the 880 and Henry Newton scored many wins with the javelin.

The Tarheel's best is second.

CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Jordan, Capt. Warren Bloodworth.

The 1960-61 Wake Forest cross country team opened a successful season with a victory over Catawba College. Following the win over Catawba, the Wake Forest Harriers were plagued by losses to Davidson, South Carolina, Duke and the University of North Carolina. Racing across the finish line first, the Harriers came back to gain more momentum as they defeated their staunch rivals of the University of Virginia. This win brought much pride to the hearts of the Harriers for this was the first time since the two schools have been meeting that Wake Forest has emerged the victor. This culminated a season's record of two wins and six losses. Backing up Coach Jordan's right hand man, senior Captain Warren Bloodworth, were Edward Ledford, Trent Wilson, Bob Dorsett, Jeff Mitchiner, and Jeff Theodore. Captain Warren Bloodworth and teammate Trent Wilson were unable to compete in the latter part of the season due to illness.

Bob Dorsett, Warren Bloodworth, Ed. Ledford, Jeff Theodore.

TENNIS

Coach Charlie Bryant

Batterson returns a fore-hand smash.

After the outstanding successes of last year, the Wake Forest tennis team is pursuing an even better record for the coming season. Last year the netmen captured third place in the annual Atlantic Coast Conference ratings and in addition had the number two double team and the number two single player in the ACC Tournament. All three of these players were lost, but the netmen are expected to be a better all-round team than the team of last year boasted.

Rising from the Freshman team is Paul Caldwell, who will be depended upon heavily. Frank Fishburne, a transfer from North Carolina State College, is also expected to add to the strength of the team. Coach Bryan, backed up by the returning lettermen, Davis Bowen, Hap Nelson, and Andy Terrell, is confident of victory and marked improvement with the addition and return of these members of the varsity squad.

GOLF

Coach Jesse Haddock and Captain Tom Taylor

Fore!

The Wake Forest golf team is again seeking first place in the 1961 season. For the last three years they have placed first, second, and third, consecutively in the Atlantic Coast Conference. With an excellent record of eleven wins and two losses, last year's team barely missed the ACC championship by losing to Duke in the playoffs. This year the Deacon golfers will be competing against approximately fifty college golf teams, including all Atlantic Coast Conference and Southern Conference teams, in the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament at Athens, Georgia.

With the return of five lettermen, Tom Taylor, Tom Roberts, Doug King, Frank Cole, and Bob Caldwell, the team is going to present a real threat to other opponents during the season. Coming up from the Freshman team this year will be Eddie Honeycutt. With his outstanding previous record, he is expected to be an important addition on the 18 hole green.

The Women's Intramural program is sponsored annually by the Women's Recreation Association. Dorms, societies, and independents are given a chance to capture the honors in field hockey, volleyball, basketball, swimming, softball, and tennis. Girls are encouraged to participate in these sports as much as possible. Participation in these sports adds toward the gaining of the number of points necessary to acquire the popular white jacket and the Wake Forest blanket. This program gives the Wake Forest coed a chance to engage in and become an active part of the recreational program of the college campus.

Guided by the Intramural Athletic Council, the Wake Forest Intramural Athletic program seeks to promote recreation, sportsmanship, and competition among students and teams of the campus. By following the seasons with touch football beginning in the fall and ending with softball in the spring, every student is given a chance to participate in the event of his choice. Thus, a wide variety of sports are offered to independent leagues and fraternity men as a means towards acquiring the coveted campus championships.

MONOGRAM CLUB

Honorary Organization for Varsity Athletes

President	JERRY BALL
Vice-President	JERRY STEELE
Secretary	EARLE THOMAS
Treasurer	JAMES PEARCE

The Monogram Club of Wake Forest College is an organization whose membership is limited to Varsity letter winners. The 1960-61 year has given the members an opportunity to exhibit leadership and to foster good will on the campus and in the community.

In November, the Monogram Club sponsored the Miss Demon Deacon contest, whose winner reigned over the Homecoming festivities. Prior to the Thanksgiving holidays the lettermen organized the Old Gold and Black Basketball game played in Memorial Coliseum. During the Children's Christmas party they assisted in distributing gifts and entertaining the guests. The Monogram Club displayed their civic awareness at the Wake Forest-North Carolina basketball game when they collected a large amount of money for the Heart Fund.

Several club members have worked busily during the year to revise pictures and trophies on display in the club room. Since the headquarters in Huffman dormitory are constantly open to guests and prospects the lettermen endeavor to help maintain a favorable impression of the Wake Forest athletic department.

The Black and Gold letter sweater is a desire for every campus athlete. It is a symbol of athletic prowess, sportsmanship and respect to all Deamon Deacs.

WHITE JACKETS

Intramural Participation Organization for Women

Traditionally the Women's Recreation Association presents various awards to girls who have shown special interest in intramural participation on the Wake Forest campus. The White Jacket is one such award. It is earned by an accumulation of one-hundred points awarded for participation in various intramural activities, the Magnolia Festival Program and the Dance Club.

Once a girl has earned her distinctive White Jacket she can begin working for an intramural key and later a Wake Forest blanket. Yet, it is that White Jacket, that first step, which is the most difficult and of all—most fulfilling.

Points are obtained through group activities, such as softball, volleyball, basketball, and field hockey, and individual activities, examples of which are swimming, tennis, badminton, and archery.

The White Jacket is worn with pride. It symbolizes the versatile girl; the girl who has revealed continued interest and participation in campus activities; the girl who is a hard worker, a hard player, and who realizes the most from life. Much is to be gained, also, from the sportsmanship that these activities demand and develop.

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT

Howard Ballard, President.

The Solons of Wake Forest College have had a full schedule of legislative responsibilities. A rush to complete election promises coupled with an immense quantity of new problems have kept the law-making body engrossed. The aim of the Student Legislature this year has been to seek ways in which to improve the cooperation among the students, faculty, and administration. Esprit de corps is necessary to surmount the problems and attain a workable solution. Time and again the legislature has proved that a joint effort usually produces favorable results.

The legislature has been effectual in providing such facilities as buses to the games during football season, an information sheet, and a calendar of events.

There were several innovations in the Freshman Orientation program this year. Private interviews between Honor Council members and incoming freshmen were an important step toward instilling the importance of the honor system in new students. Another achievement in the honor system was the unanimous approval of the legislature to delete the "drinking" section from the honor code. Because of the habitual neglect of students to report their colleagues, it was obvious that the clause was undesired and ineffectual. It was felt that the entire honor code would be strengthened by eliminating this weak link. The Honor Council is to be commended for its excellent work in upholding the honor code.

Two-thirds of the Freshman class participated in an interesting and colorful Freshman election. The Solons later approved the use of the polls for the Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity to hold a straw ballot for the National Presidential Election. The annual Children's Christmas Party was successful under the co-sponsorship of the Interfraternity Council, the cheerleaders, and the legislature. Facilities were again provided for the parents of our freshmen students, and the annual Freshmen Parents' Week End was well attended.

GOVERNMENT

It was decided that our energy should be concentrated this year on the State Student Legislature. The delegation sent to Raleigh brought back a very favorable report. Among the more controversial items debated this year were cafeteria improvements and a request for a one day extension of our Christmas holidays. The administration capably solved the former, and the faculty complied with the latter request.

Important steps have been taken which illustrate that problems can usually be solved by arbitration. In place of riots and boycotts led by irate students the Student Government has stepped in and met the crises and solved the problems by quiescence. The Legislature, led by its capable officers, and Honor Council will endeavor to keep the interests of the students foremost and to furnish the required leadership for the student body.

Betty Bruce Howard, President.

With the admission of the first woman student to Wake Forest College there came the necessity of establishing an organization to regulate all matters pertaining to the life of women students on campus. As the number of coeds increased, the need for this organization grew until today the Woman's Government Association holds a very prominent position at Wake Forest College.

All undergraduate women who are matriculates of the college are members, and they are represented by the Executive Board composed of the five major officers, House Presidents, and representatives. With the guidance of the Dean of Women, House Hostesses, and the Executive Board, it is the purpose of the Woman's Government Association to develop the sense of individual responsibility; to further the spirit of unity among the women students; and to create and maintain the ideals of the women of Wake Forest College.

SOCIAL STANDARDS

Back row: W. Waugster, B. Bultman, C. Deal.

Each year many gala affairs are sponsored by the Social Standards Committee of the Woman's Government Association. This committee, led by Jane Greer, is responsible for the varied social program enjoyed by women students during the year. The program included entertaining during freshman orientation, freshman-parent week-end, coffee hours for alumni and guests of the college on different occasions, and at the Big-Little Sister Banquet. This training in planning and entertaining at socials enables the "Wake Forest Woman" to show good taste in her manners and appearance.

COEDS DANCE

When boys "spruce up" at Christmas, Valentine, and the spring season, and the girls press their new formals, everyone knows it's about time for another Coed Dance!

The setting for the semi-formal Christmas Party was the Armory, beautifully decorated with a Santa Claus, his sleigh and reindeer, and glittering stars.

The third, last, and most exciting event was the Magnolia Ball. Everyone dressed in their most formal attire to greet the Magnolia Queen and her Court. The splendor of Graylyn Estate added to the beautiful setting, accompanied by dancing on the patios underneath the stars. Refreshments were served at all three dances sponsored by the Social Standard's Committee.

The Women's Recreation Association is designed to meet the recreational needs and interests of the co-eds. Its purpose is to provide opportunities for participation in the various activities and sports essential for well-rounded physical and social development.

Sponsored by W.R.A., well-coordinated, intramural activities were put into effect. Girls acquired the attractive white jackets seen frequently on campus by accumulating the necessary points through taking part in these intramurals. Throughout the year the association conducted tournaments in every area and encouraged all co-eds to participate.

ORCHESIS

Standing - Hampton, President. First row - Lowe, Bridgers, Tims, Clark, McBe. Second row - Greer, Brooks, Hopkins, Finlayson, Sturze.

A club on campus for students interested in modern dance is the Orchesis Club. Serving as president for the 1960-61 school year was Delores Lee (Burch) Hampton, and Mrs. William Ogden served as the club's advisor. New members were welcomed at an open house held in October; and shortly before Christmas, the club presented a brief dance program, which was followed by a party. The major activity for the second semester was providing entertainment for the Magnolia Festival, always the highlight of the year!

PHYSICAL EDUCATION MAJORS' CLUB

The Physical Education Majors' Club was one of the more active organizations on campus this year. Meetings were held twice monthly, the first being of a professional nature and the others consisting mainly of food and fun.

Physical education majors proved to be active in areas other than sports. Programs to help the majors to develop poise, confidence, speaking ability, and other leadership qualities were presented once a month to all women majoring in physical education. Club members planned and prepared displays and bulletin boards, as well as excellent menus for the supper meetings.

The members gained professional experience throughout the year by assisting in the managing and officiating of women's intramurals.

First row: Canady, Treadway, McBee, Lowe, Brooks. Second row: McDonald, Brown, Young, Lexas, Cheek, Loftin.

MARITIMERS

Maritimers is sponsored by the Department of Physical Education, Wake Forest College. The object of this organization is to promote a spirit of good sportsmanship and friendship among its members and to sponsor and to promote interest and participation in aquatic activities here and elsewhere.

Membership is open to all students of Wake Forest College with three classes of membership: Active, Associate, and Pledge. During the year, members work on two water shows, which they write and direct as a club; sponsor a Miss Maritimer contest; vote on outstanding members for the Maritimer's award; present awards to the outstanding members of the swimming team; and attend an annual spring banquet, at which these awards are presented and the new season begins.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The Future Teachers Club, known nationally as the Student Education Association, is the basic unit of professional organization for college students preparing to teach. Payment of local, state, and national dues entitles one to membership in the S.E.A., the State Education Association, and the National Education Association. Membership insures receipt of professional as well as student publications, including all issues of the state journal and the N.E.A. Journal. One learns about the history, ethics, organization, policies, and programs of the education associations and gains experience in working with them. Members take part in state and national conferences and conventions as representatives of their organization.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS CLUB

Seated—McDevitt, Warford, Goodman, Davis, Sutton, Carter, Glass, Wiggins, Robinson, Eagles, McDonald, Pokempner, James. Standing—Wineberry, Perry, Jones, Hammon, Guice, Phillips, Grimes, Hope.

The Young Democrats Club at Wake Forest this year pursued a very profitable program that consisted of many hours of planning and hard work. Led by this year's officers, Larry James, President, Merle Pokempner, Vice-President, Becky McDonald, Secretary, and Joe Grubbs, Treasurer, the group worked closely with Forsyth County senior groups to promote rallies, "Dollars for Democrats" drives, distribution of bumper stickers and literature, and numerous other activities including the operation of a booth at the Dixie Classics Fair.

Most important of the club's activities was a Youth Rally at which James Symington, son of Senator Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) was guest speaker.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club was organized to foster an interest in and an understanding of international relations among students by discussions and lectures. As a second-fold purpose, it provided the student with a chance to put forth his opinions and ideas for discussion with other interested students.

This year the International Relations Club emphasized the non-political and personal aspects of international relations. In keeping with this idea, speakers from the college faculty, as well as distinguished, off-campus persons were invited to speak. The lectures and discussions, in which the students participated, included such topics as "The Rise of African Nationalism," "The American in Europe," and "American Foreign Policy."

EUZELIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Dignity of intellectual pursuit, simplicity of cultural expression, effectiveness in oral communication—this is Euzelian—a society that honors greatness and promulgates it. Its business is to foster a friendly following of the arts. Organized fellowship and criticism make each Euzelian assured of reciprocity. This year's programs, under the leadership of President Glenn Hamm and Vice-President Kelley Griffith, have been formulated with the underlying theme of vitality in expression. These programs have included dramatic readings, debates, lecture-discussions, and literary reviews. Through these, Euzelia endows her followers with alertness of mind in being well-informed and ever-questioning.

Student Union is exactly what the name implies—a union of all the students, and it has become important in the lives of all the people here at Wake Forest College. This success can probably be attributed to the excellent co-operation of the administration and the active interest and participation of the vast majority of the students.

The purpose of the Student Union is to coordinate, increase, and develop the social, recreational, and educational activities available to Wake Forest College students. Homecoming, shows, parties, dances, games, movies, lectures, and trips have been some of the projects undertaken. These projects have been carried out under the leadership of the officers and committee chairmen.

The Union is, however, more than just an organization, a program, or a group of committee chairmen. It is the students working and playing together with a desire to make their stay at Wake Forest more meaningful and profitable.

Gamma Delta Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, Professional Business Fraternity, is a brotherhood of men majoring in Business Administration. The Fraternity sponsors industrial tours and its meetings are addressed by leaders from business fields. WFDD

Radio Department Assistants: Whit Bauer, Jan Huggins

Station assistants prepare for broadcast.

WFDD, the voice of Wake Forest College, is "on the air" five nights each week, broadcasting news and music to the students in the dormitories through its carrier current transmitters. This year, WFDD came under the auspices of the newly created Department of Speech, with Dr. Julian C. Burroughs, Jr., as the station's supervisor.

The station's remote microphones can usually be found covering all the major news-making events on the campus, including such happenings as concerts, lectures, and the student election returns. One of the favorite programs heard on WFDD this year has been "Deaconlight Serenade," a late evening program of popular music, which has been on the air since the organization of the station on the old campus in 1948.

PUB BOARD

The Publications Board is composed of the editors and business managers of the three student publications: Old Gold and Black; the Howler; and the Student.

"Pub" Board worked very hard during the year under the guidance of Ray Rollins, President; Don Phelps, Vice-President; Mary Gail Koontz, Secretary; and Chuck Jones, Treasurer, to make the 1960-61 publications the best in college history.

Dwight Pickard, Sylvia Burroughs, and Wayne Eudy completed the membership. These editors and business managers worked with the faculty advisers, who willingly submitted their ideas and advice when needed or requested. Working together, they have put forth every effort to make the student publications more enjoyable and more interesting to the entire student body.

The Old Gold and Black office is a place where the lights were seldom turned off and the clacking of typewriters could be heard throughout the days and nights—long days and nights of trying to make the Wake Forest College newspaper the best all-round paper in the state, No. 1 in the south, and All-American for its fourteenth and fifteenth times.

The pace of Old Gold and Black was set from its first issue, this year a ten-page paper in which appeared Old Gold's FIRST use of full color, a picture of Miss North Carolina, Wake Forest's own Ann Herring.

It was said in the Howler last year, and we repeat, "They have dared when necessary to trample 'forbidden ground' . . . often transposing the bounds of personal qualms or friendships . . . in their quest to locate facts—truths." The story of Wake Forest College.

The newspaper this year had a colorful crew, who felt that an enjoyable atmosphere was as important to putting out a healthy newspaper as fact gathering and objective reporting. Editor Ray Rollins tried to make the newspaper a testing ground for human ideas, a training ground for social attitudes, and a proving ground for would-be journalists. The staff has definitely succeeded in giving the students a "worthwhile" newspaper.

THE STUDENT

Dwight Pickard, Editor

Sylvia Burroughs, Business Manager

Pink Row boasts of at least one intellect -- "The Student's" own "Cheetah"!

Six editions of The Student came out this year, and six times the magazines were compiled to appeal to the interests of all readers. A revolution in the general characteristics of the magazine occurred. New lay-outs, different print types, color emphasis, art and photography work, and other methods of changing the magazine were decided upon by the Editorial Board, who agreed with Editor Dwight Pickard, "We want the magazine read—that's the main thing."

In addition to the new techniques of enhancing its qualities, every edition aimed at hitting a medium between the esthetic and the practical, hitting the soul of the students themselves. Short stories, poetry, vignettes, essays, cartoons, and plays were included in order that each reader could find something enlightening for himself in every edition.

Minds whirled, staffs labored, and pens scratched as ideas were born. Sylvia Burroughs, business manager, walked the streets as she solicited advertisements which would make the hopes appear in print. Staff members paced through the office to the sounds of a hi-fi and radio or reclined on "Perceval," the cheeta skin—another new—draped over the only sofa on pub row, as they worked night and day for an enlightening magazine that would be read and enjoyed. And their dreams of success became realities as The Student was read, and its popularity grew through the year.

THE 1961 HOWLER

When's the Howler coming out? Is the scrapbook almost finished? These questions ring in the ears of every editor. The Howler is a very special scrapbook, for on its pages are printed the most memorable events of the school year. For some, the Howler is a means of identifying the cute coed who sat in front of him last semester; others after four years discover many unknown classmates; while some skim the pictures, waiting twenty years to take out their book to see how they looked when they still had hair.

An early deadline caused pandemonium among the staff who intermittently panicked, griped, and pounded typewriters. They struggled with horizontal pictures which had to fit into vertical spaces; they gave up leisurely weekends, eating and sleeping to type copy. Studying became something for next semester, for the Howler must come first. In February, our work was completed.

May came, and so did the Howler. As everyone stood filled with excitement and suspense, the first copy, glistening and new, was removed from its pasteboard covering. Along with the first smile of approval and admiration from the students, the staff members smiled, too, with a feeling of satisfaction and pride. Their work had not been in vain!

The Young Women's Auxiliary of Wake Forest College sought this year to emphasize home and foreign missions by means of active study and participation. The girls, under the effective leadership of President Saralyn Blanton conducted the study courses.

Projects included gifts to the Children's Home, and work with underprivileged girls, in handicrafts, music, recreation, and even fashion shows. With speakers such as missionaries from Rhodesia, supper meetings in the dormitory, combined food, fellowship, and inspiration. One of the closing events of the year was the impressive White Bible Ceremony in Davis Chapel for Y. W. A.'s soon to be married.

Y. W. A. influence became worldwide through its participation in the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering, the Listen Fund, and the National Week of Prayer.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION AND SERVICE CLUB

In trying to maintain a balance of both practical service experiences and intellectual stimulation, the Christian Education and Service Club has maintained several projects. It has worked through several programs to better prepare its members for all phases of Christian work, be it as a professional church worker or as a lay church member. Each week, groups have gone into several colored churches and one mission of Winston-Salem and into homes for the aged, with these members participating in the numerous service projects. The club is one of the unit organizations of the Baptist Student Union of Wake Forest College.

ORIENTATION COMMITTEE

Bob Day, Chapel Chairman.

The class of 1964 was introduced to Wake Forest by fifty-eight members of the Student Orientation Committee. They gave the incoming Freshmen their first glimpse of Wake Forest traditions and organizations, and assisted them in making the transition from high school to college life.

The Chapel Committee, led by Rev. L. H. Hollingsworth and Robert Day, planned the programs this year. Mr. Irving Carlyle, lawyer of Winston-Salem, and Harold Hayes of Esquire Magazine spoke to the student body. Also, former President Truman and Ralph Bunche, both of International fame made guest appearances. Other men of equal renown from Harvard and the National Science Foundation spoke to the students.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Baptist Student Union represents one aspect of the Christian witness of Baptists in institutions of higher learning. This witness is carried on in response to Christ's command to make the gospel known to all men. Basically, the Baptist Student Union is a movement or effort to channel the religious concern and interest of college, university and professional school students into avenues of more meaningful expression and growth. Its general objective is to lead persons in the academic community into a vital relationship to Jesus Christ and into a maturing Christian experience. Some of its specific objectives are: to encourage responsible church membership and denominational appreciation; to stimulate personal spiritual growth; to develop concern for evangelism and missions; to provide for an examination of the Christian faith and its application to life; to relate the Christian perspective to all phases of campus life; and to train for Christian leadership.

EXTENSION

For a number of years, students from Wake Forest College have rendered valuable service to many churches through week-end youth revivals, retreats, worship services and other programs designed to meet the needs of the individual church. This is the work of the B. S. U. Extension Committee, led by Jack Tesh, chairman.

CULLOM MINISTERIAL

The W. R. Cullom Ministerial Conference is one of three unit organizations of the Baptist Student Union. The Conference is named in honor of Dr. W. R. Cullom who founded the Conference and for many years led its work.

The Conference seeks to aid the Ministerial student in finding his place in the life of the college and to help him make a contribution to the total campus life.

The Conference meets weekly during the semester. Problems of peculiar interest and related to the work of the Minister are studied. The Conference also seeks to encourage scholarly endeavor among the Ministerial students.

The members actively participate in the college intramural program. The Conference conducts weekly services at the Baptist Home for the Aged giving the students an opportunity to lead in services.

ORGAN GUILD

The Student Organ Guild was founded at Wake Forest College in September, 1957, under the auspices of the American Guild of Organists, a national organization. Membership is primarily for organ students, but other interested students are invited to join. The monthly meetings are devoted to the many phases of the organ as an instrument and to its music. Dr. Paul S. Robinson is the faculty sponsor. Officers for the year 1960-1961 are: Hiram Jenkins, president, and Dorothy Bishop, secretary-treasurer.

Seated: Dot Bishop, Carol Fuller, Dr. Robinson. Standing: Clarence Houitt, Herbert Barkley, Tom Warlick, Hiram Jenkins.

DEBATE

"Traveling" is the word most often used to describe Wake Forest debaters. Attending a growing number of tournaments each year, teams travelled this season to Miami, Dartmouth, Oklahoma A & M, Georgetown University, University of Kentucky, University of South Carolina, Notre Dame, William and Mary, and Northwestern University. Traditionally having a fine team, Wake Forest by January had placed third in a fifty-seven school tournament at the University of Pittsburgh. Trips to Jamaica and Hawaii are also anticipated by the team this year.

Besides travelling to tournaments, Wake Forest debaters in conjunction with the Speech Department annually sponsor three tournaments on our campus. The Novice Tournament and the Dixie Classic are attended by the finest debating teams in the nation; the North Carolina Speech Festival for high schools draws annually three hundred students from all parts of the state.

Blackburn, Moore, Hopkins, Wood, Dailey, Baker, Bowles.

CHAPEL CHOIR

The Chapel Choir, under the capable direction of Dr. Thane McDonald, is composed of 86 voices. They are chosen on the basis of ability for choral singing, enthusiasm, and interest. The main function of the choir is to provide an anthem at each Thursday morning Chapel Service.

In December, the choir sang the Twenty-second Annual Christmas Vesper Service. An enjoyable and successful year was completed during the Magnolia Festival in May at which time the choir sang an inspiring and beautiful concert of sacred music.

CIRCLE K

The Circle K Club is not another social fraternity, but a service organization sponsored by and similar to Kiwanis Clubs. It is a service club at the college level organized since 1947 on the campuses of many of our colleges and universities. It is a character building group designed to be of service on the campus, to the school, and to the community.

Although our Wake Forest club received its charter only last year, it has built its membership greatly; and with the leadership of the Kiwanis Club in Winston-Salem, it is busy establishing itself and working to help the college, the community, and the nation.

Our program includes projects of assistance to the administration, service to the student body and aid to the entire personality of the college, in areas which will promote Wake Forest and are in keeping with the good name of this institution.

TOURING CHOIR

The Wake Forest College Touring Choir, made up of forty members selected from the Chapel Choir, was founded in 1948 by its present conductor, Dr. Thane McDonald. At the end of this fourteenth season, the choir has given approximately 300 programs in churches, schools, colleges, hospitals, and for civic organizations and service clubs from Maryland to Florida. The choir's membership has included young men and women from twelve states, including Hawaii, the District of Columbia, and China. The choir holds an associate membership in the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs.

CONCERT BAND

The Concert Band enjoyed an active year and operated for the first time as a completely separate organization from the Marching Band. It performed for several chapel assemblies, two formal evening concerts and an outdoor concert during the Magnolia Festival. The band made a short concert tour of western North Carolina during part of the spring recess. The student band staff officers were Wilma Jean Metcalf, Secretary; Tera Frizzelle, Librarian; and Jimmy Tillotson, Equipment Manager.

LITTLE SYMPHONY

The College Orchestra enjoyed another year, busy with opera, musical theater, and concerts. The first project was accompanying a Wake Forest Theatre production of "Kismet." Next, the symphony participated in the Chapel Choir Christmas Vesper Service, performing excerpts from the "Messiah."

During the second semester, the orchestra accompanied a Department of Music production of "Hansel and Gretel" and presented its second annual Magnolia Festival Concert. The wind and percussion sections augmented by several other members of the symphony accompanied a Wake Forest Theatre production of "Annie, Get Your Gun."

MARCHING DEACONS

The College Marching Band grew in size and spirit last fall and proudly wore the new set of "Deacon" uniforms. The band performed at all four home games and represented the college at the Florida State game in Tallahassee, the North Carolina game in Chapel Hill, and the Virginia game in Charlottesville. The band worked hard and should be proud of the fine receptions they were given for their performances. The new Drum Major was Harold Dunevant.

TWIRLERS

Having lost all but two of last year's Twirlers through graduation or transfer, this year's group had a majority of new members. The twirlers performed regularly during the fall with the Marching Deacons and made several special appearances during the year.

The new Chief-Twirlers was Mary Lou Butts, a freshman from South Hill, Virginia. Mary Lou is an accomplished performer and has won many distinguished titles and awards for her ability with the baton.

Shirley Kooztz, Brenda Willis, Mary Lou Butts, Lynn Koss, Jackie Mitchell.

COLLEGE THEATER

This year has been a triumphant one for the College Theater. Beginning in October with Duernmott's The Visit, and following in December with Kismet, in February with Lo and Behold!, and in May with another musical comedy, the theater presented artistic as well as enjoyable productions.

In fact, the Seventh Level of the Library, where the theater is housed, was always humming. Two laboratory productions were presented in addition to the four major ones. Sam Allen directed Ethel Van Der Veer's The Emperor's Doll in conjunction with Reynolds High School; and he also directed his own play, When We Wake Up The Day After Tomorrow.

Last year a new feature was added. The theater's productions of Oedipus Rex and The Medium were taken on tour to several communities in North Carolina. This proved to be valuable experience for both the students participating and the communities visited, and a tour of one of the theater's productions is planned for this spring.

It is because of the enthusiastic direction of James H. Walton, however, that the theater has made tremendous strides forward. Productions and facilities have both been immeasurably improved since Mr. Walton came to Wake Forest in 1956. Beginning in 1956 with nothing but one room in the library, the theater evolved from an arena theater to a proscenium theater. Mr. Walton's enthusiasm has been augmented by the dedication and hard work of countless students who have made the theater valuable to themselves and to Wake Forest.

ARMY

From our nation's founding as a constitutional republic, Americans have sought a world built on the principles of inherent worth and dignity of the individual. The struggle to maintain these principles is no longer limited to things military, but encompasses the spectrum of human endeavor—scientific, economical, political, cultural, spiritual and educational.

Our national defense is predicated on a large, well-trained reserve force capable of immediate deployment against any aggressor. The Army, an integral and vital element of this great force, relies predominantly on the colleges and universities of this nation to provide the leaders it needs.

It is the purpose of the ROTC to select students physically and academically qualified and to further train them in the basic principles of citizenship and military leadership. Upon completion of the advanced course and graduation from college, the ROTC cadet is commissioned a lieutenant in the Army reserve as a reserve officer. He accepts the responsibility of active citizenship which requires the contribution of his leadership, talent, and service to the limits of his capacity.

WHO'S WHO

Who's Who among Students in American Universities and Colleges is a national plan initiated in the school year 1934-35 for the recognition of college students who have been outstanding in some phase of college life. They are nominated for the honor by a local campus committee of student-faculty-administration representatives and accepted by the national organization. In making their selections, the committee members are urged to consider scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, general citizenship, service to their school, and promise of future usefulness.

The number of students selected from each college or university is determined by the national organization with the quota based on the current enrollment of the institution. It is large enough to encompass a well-rounded representation of the student body and small enough to give recognition to an exceptional group of student leaders.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA

First row - D. Sander, B. Strain, H. Bullard, G. Williamson, B. Plemmons. Second row - D. Pickard, T. Blackburn, J. Steel, J. Galehouse.

Omicron Delta Kappa National Leadership Honor Society recognizes men who display leadership of exceptional quality and versatility in all phases of college life. Men of this society cooperate in worthwhile endeavor and meet faculty and administration on a basis of mutual interest, understanding and helpfulness.

TASSELS

First row - C. Templeton, J. Parker, S. Blanton, M. G. Koontz. Second row - L. F. Coltrane, Mrs. M. Lanes, B. B. Howard, J. Greer.

Tassels is an honorary society to recognize outstanding women students for their qualities in character, leadership, scholarship, service, and fellowship. Prominent women on campus are joined into one sisterhood with the purpose of building other stepping stones in the ladder of leadership.

Women who are members of Tassels bear with them this symbol to aid them in being loyal in their relationships with others and in following the principles of God throughout life.

PHI ALPHA THETA

Phi Alpha Theta is a national honor society in history, founded in 1921. Chapters may be found at most of the leading colleges and universities in the United States. The requirements for membership are: an active interest in history, the completion of 12 semester hours of history with better than a "B" average, and a "B" average on two-thirds of all other college work completed.

The purposes of the Society are to afford recognition to outstanding students in history, and to stimulate further study in the field. To achieve this, the society, in addition to conferring membership on eligible students, also awards three annual scholarships for graduate study, and an annual prize for the best undergraduate paper on history. The Society publishes a quarterly journal, The Historian, which features articles on history submitted by undergraduate and graduate students.

ALPHA EPSILON DELTA

Alpha Epsilon Delta is a national honor society for premedical students. The society was founded at the University of Alabama on April 28, 1926. It is an affiliated society of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Council on Education, and a member of the Association of College Honor Societies. North Carolina Gamma Chapter at Wake Forest College was founded in 1948.

The object of the Society is to encourage excellence in pre-medical scholarship, to stimulate an appreciation of the importance of the study of medicine, and to promote co-operation and contacts between medical and pre-medical students and educators in developing an adequate program of pre-medical education.

Membership in Alpha Epsilon Delta is a recognition of superior scholastic achievement of a pre-medical student and it affords him an opportunity to develop a well-rounded personality and qualities of initiative, leadership and self-education by participation in the activities of the Society.

BETA BETA BETA

Beta Beta Beta is the national honor biological society for students of the biological sciences. The society strives to stimulate good scholarship, promote the dissemination of scientific truth, and encourage scientific investigation. Tri Beta desires to cultivate intellectual interest in the natural sciences and to promote a better appreciation of the value of biological study. Membership is reserved for those who achieve superior academic records and who show a special interest in biology.

Programs and projects of the Beta Rho Chapter are conducted to benefit not only the members, but the school and community as well. The chapter provides outstanding speakers, maintains a tutoring service for students desiring aid in biology courses, and works for the beautification of the Wake Forest campus.

GAMMA SIGMA EPSILON

Gamma Sigma Epsilon, the only national honorary co-educational chemical fraternity, was founded at Davidson College on December 19, 1919. As a means of binding the chapters together, the first publication of The Ritz, the magazine of the fraternity, appeared in February, 1924.

On May 7, 1926, the Alpha Gamma chapter was established at Wake Forest College. The basic minimum requirements for membership are that he be taking a fourth course in chemistry, having completed three, and that he have at least a 2.2 q. p. ratio on chemistry and a 1.5 overall ratio, as well as a genuine interest in chemistry.

The purpose of the fraternity is "to unite men of a high scholastic grade in chemistry in Class A colleges in order to foster a more comprehensive and co-operative study of that great branch of Science and its immediately allied studies."

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF PHYSICS

The Wake Forest Student Section of the American Institute of Physics is affiliated with both the American Institute of Physics and the Collegiate Academy of the North Carolina Academy of Science. The A. I. P. provided for student membership by opening its first student sections in 1950. (Membership benefits include the monthly publication Physics Today.) This magazine contains reports on recent seminars, articles on contemporary research work, and historical articles on significant developments in physics. Each student section receives bulletins on graduate programs in physics offered by the major schools in the United States and lists of industrial positions open to graduates in physics.

The primary purpose of the organization is to stimulate student interest in science, and to provide students with an opportunity to acquire a familiarity with the broader aspects of science, particularly physics.

The Wake Forest section has had the pleasure of presenting several informative lectures by interesting speakers, some of whom were sponsored by the parent organizations. Similar programs are expected to be continued for the benefit of all those interested in the field of science.

PERSHING RIFLES

Pershing Rifles is a national honorary and military society. It is a highly selective organization and was named after General John J. "Blackjack" Pershing at the University of Nebraska in 1898.

The organization rapidly spread to various colleges and universities throughout the country. One headquarters was soon found to be inadequate to take care of all the Pershing Rifles units. The result was a national headquarters at the University of Nebraska and several regiments, each with a regimental headquarters to facilitate correspondence, control, and meeting the needs of each individual unit.

The Pershing Rifles unit at Wake Forest was organized in the fall of 1957 and was composed of the Drill Team. This unit was designated and initiated as Company D, Fourth Regiment with regimental headquarters at Clemson College, Clemson, South Carolina.

The unit at Wake Forest is relatively young and possesses vast potentiality for growth and benefit to its members.

SCABBARD AND BLADE

The National Society of Scabbard and Blade is an honorary military fraternity organized to develop and foster the ideals and practices of military education in various colleges and universities in the United States where Military Science and Tactics is a part of the curriculum.

The Wake Forest chapter selects those cadets participating in the advanced R.O.T.C. course who have excelled in Military Science and Academic Scholarship. A cadet selected for membership in the society must possess the qualities of leadership, patriotism, efficiency, loyalty, obedience, courage, good-fellowship, and honor.

In the spring the Company co-sponsors the Military Ball. It also presents at the Annual Award Ceremony a medal to the outstanding cadet in each military science class.

KAPPA MU EPSILON

Kappa Mu Epsilon, national honorary mathematics fraternity, was founded at Northwestern State Teachers College of Oklahoma in 1931. In 1949, the Mathematics Club of Wake Forest College was installed as the North Carolina Alpha Chapter of Kappa Mu Epsilon.

Kappa Mu Epsilon is designed to meet the needs of those students who show an aptitude for and an interest in mathematics. For the benefit of its members, the chapter attempts to present stimulating and timely programs dealing with the many phases of mathematics.

In keeping with the aims of the fraternity, Kappa Mu Epsilon offers membership to students who have completed nine semester hours of work in mathematics and are currently enrolled in a course in calculus. The prospective member must testify as to his aptitude by presenting an acceptable over-all average as well as meeting the minimum scholastic requirements in mathematics.

PHI EPSILON KAPPA

Phi Epsilon Kappa is the only national professional fraternity for men students and teachers of health, physical education and recreation. It was founded at the Normal College of the American Gymnastic Union of Indianapolis on April 12, 1913. The purpose was social and professional companionship.

The Alpha Lambda Chapter was installed at Wake Forest College in April 1949, and was the first collegiate chapter formed South of the Mason-Dixon Line. The Chapter is led this year by President Jim Pfohl; Vice-President, Jerry Steele; Secretary, Bill Baker; and Treasurer, Jimmy Lanier.

DELTA PHI ALPHA

In 1955, the National Council of Delta Phi Alpha voted unanimously to establish a Chapter of its Honorary German Fraternity at Wake Forest College.

On March 12, 1958, the Ipsilon Chapter of Davidson College aided in the installation of the new Chapter of Delta Chi at Wake Forest College. Chapter Delta Chi became the 93rd chapter member of Delta Phi Alpha in the United States; and since that time, there has been an addition of three more chapters.

Members are chosen on the basis of the completion of four semesters of German, as well as an overall scholastic average of C and an average of B in all German courses. Although the Wake Forest Chapter is relatively small, it has been continually growing as the students' interest in the language, people, and country of Germany grows.

ETA SIGMA PHI

Eta Sigma Phi has its beginning in an organization of students in the department of Greek and Latin at the University of Chicago in 1914. It became national in 1924. The society has continued to grow, and today there are chapters at many of the leading colleges and universities in the United States. Beta Iota Chapter was established at Wake Forest College in 1943.

The purposes of the classical language fraternity are threefold: (1) To develop and promote interest in classical study among the students of colleges and universities. (2) To promote closer fraternal relationship among students who are interested in classical study, including inter-campus relationship. (3) To engage generally in an effort to stimulate interest in classical study, and in the history, art, and literature of ancient Greece and Rome.

PHI SIGMA IOTA

Phi Sigma Iota, National Romance Language Honor Society, was founded at Allegheny College in October, 1922, by the late Professor Henry W. Church and became a national society on April 7, 1925, with the installation of Beta Chapter at the Pennsylvania State University. In 1935, Phi Sigma Iota merged with Alpha Zeta Pi, a society founded at the University of Denver, which had aims and ideals similar to those of Phi Sigma Iota. There are more than fifty-five chapters distributed throughout twenty-seven states.

Delta Sigma Chapter of Phi Sigma Iota was organized at Wake Forest College on October 17, 1958. Monthly meetings are held on the first Thursday of each month. Active membership consists of members of the faculty and advanced students of Romance languages. To be admitted, a student must be a junior, senior, or graduate student and must be taking at least third year French or Spanish and must have a high scholastic standing in the entire college course as well as in the Romance languages.

Phi Sigma Iota encourages high scholarship and individual research in the field of the Romance languages and literatures.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

To be inducted into "Purple Mask" is the highest honor that can be bestowed upon any member of the Wake Forest Theater. Induction indicates sincere interest in and significant contribution to the theater.

The members believe in the College Theater, and pledge their best to the end that there shall be realized at Wake Forest College the finest artistic achievement of which such a theater is capable.

PI KAPPA DELTA

North Carolina Beta chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, national honor speech fraternity, was founded at Wake Forest College in 1925. The principal purpose of the fraternity is to further intercollegiate speech activities and communication in an effort to provide functional leadership training for life, and at the same time encourage a spirit of fellowship, brotherly cooperation, and incentive for achievement.

Fall came soon enough this year, and with it came a bunch of "SIGS" back to campus. We had many hopes and fears, anticipating a year of great success.

First came rushing and pledging. We spent much time and work on the new Freshmen trying to win converts to our way of life. All was rewarded by a pledge class of qualitative rank.

Scholastics occupied our attention at the annual Founders Day dinner where Dean Wilson gave a stirring talk on the importance of academic discipline for the fraternity man. We honored the fine scholarship of Fred Picklesimer by awarding him a trophy and scholarship. All of our boys were now ready to study. We also remembered our date of founding at Wake Forest in 1932, and recognized our present officers: Barry Davison, President; Jim George, Vice-president; Taylor Ryan, Secretary; and James Carney, Pledgemaster.

Then came the call of social life. Our year was heightened by these: good representation at the interfraternity gatherings, mid-winters, homecoming, many well-attended parties with excellent accommodations, and the annual "Black and White" and "Apache" parties. At the "Black and White" in Southern Pines, North Carolina, we dressed formally; and at the "Apache" party here, we had the traditional French decorum.

In all, the year was very successful. We stand poised, waiting for another fall with its new challenge to our brotherhood.

What hams! ?

In 1899, a handful of students in New York City got together to form a "new" kind of organization. It was to be a "20th century" fraternity, a brotherhood of men with a progressive spirit to match the dawn of the new century.

Today Delta Sigma Phi has grown into an international college fraternity with over 90 chapters. Wake Forest's Beta Lambda chapter was chartered in 1938 and re-established when the college moved to Winston-Salem.

This year was highly successful for us. We began the year with a top pledge class. For the fifth consecutive year our sponsor won the Homecoming Queen's trophy. The Playboy formal party was a blast along with the Sailor's Ball. Several brothers and pledges attended the state-wide Delta Sig Carnation Ball in Raleigh. Brother Norman Snead finished his college career and joined the pro ranks in football.

During the year we had a lot of fun as a fraternity and as individuals. We found a girl the right size for Fendy, had tremendous success in wrestling, almost drowned on Hal's waterborn hayride at Bayden Lake, kidded "Saint" Butch, read Brother Rollin's Old Gold and Black, looked for the "Delta Sig" in Brother Kerr cartoons and watched Marty lead cheers.

As a chapter we strive to remain an organization of individuals, promoting a balance between all areas of college life, not sacrificing one at the expense of another.

President Fendy—"our leader."

Tau Chapter of Kappa Alpha Order was organized on the Wake Forest campus in January of 1881. The administration of the college, however, did not recognize social fraternities at this time. It was not until October 9, 1922, that Tau Chapter was recognized by the administration as the first social fraternity on the Wake Forest campus.

Pledged to maintain the high ideals of character which were best exemplified by Robert E. Lee, Tau brothers have always upheld the standards of Wake Forest College by conducting themselves in the best possible manner in the classroom, on the athletic field, and at social affairs.

KA has always stressed the importance of scholarship at college, and the combined efforts of all the brothers earned us the coveted scholarship trophy for 1959-60.

In athletics, we won the fraternity football championship for the third year in a row and placed high on the list in all other intramural athletic activities. Many brothers also participated in varsity athletics, with Bobby Allen, outstanding end on the varsity football team, earning a bid to play in the post-season grid classic, the Blue-Gray game.

Socially the KA's experienced a fine year. The highlight of the first semester was our annual Rose Ball, during which Miss Marlot Hayes was crowned our 1960-61 Rose. To put the final touches on a year of outstanding achievements, all KA's attended the Old South Ball in Richmond, Virginia.

The Kappa Sigma Fraternity was founded at the University of Virginia on December 10, 1869. Since then, it has grown into an international fraternity with 132 active chapters in the United States and Canada. The Fraternity annually makes cash awards to outstanding Juniors and Seniors in each chapter and holds a Grand Conclave biennially; this summer it will be in Portland, Oregon.

The Delta-Omega Chapter was formed at Wake Forest on December 9, 1939. Practically all organizations at Wake Forest have Kappa Sigs among their ranks; and the chapter boasts of leaders in such varied campus activities as Student Government, scholarship, intramural program, debate, R.O.I.C., choir, honorary military organizations, publications, and honorary and professional fraternities. The fraternity has also consistently placed high in all areas of Inter-Fraternity Council competition.

The social picture for the Kappa Sigs has been a full one this year. With the passing of Homecoming, the annual Christmas party for underprivileged children, MidWinters, the district conclave at Duke, and numerous fraternity parties, the scene was set at Forsyth Country Club for Star and Crescent. At this formal banquet and dance, the Sweetheart is announced, and the coveted "Man of the Year" and "Pledge of the Year" awards are presented.

Let's have a party!

Celebrating its thirty-sixth year on the Wake Forest College campus, Lambda Chi began with the return of thirty-three brothers and five pledges. Led by Carl Hoffman, president, and Tom Lowe, rush chairman, Theta Tau Zeta had the most outstanding rush program on campus, adding forty-three new men to the fraternity roll.

The highlights of the Lambda Chi social calendar were the annual "Rush" party, the Homecoming dance, the brother-pledge Christmas dinner, followed by a visit to the Baptist Old Folks Home for a serenade, the Midwinters dance, the annual "Apple Polishing Banquet," and the annual White Rose Ball over which the Crescent Girl and her Court reigned. Many serenades were also held throughout the year.

Outstanding Lambda Chis on campus were: Gene Petras, Co-captain of the swimming team; Bobby Allen, member of the swimming team; Jay Franklin and Jack Karcher, members of the baseball team; Bill Fennell, member of the basketball team; Tom Roberts, member of the golf team; and Warren Bloodsworth, captain of the cross country team; Freddie Turnage, president of the Student Bar Association elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities; "Sonny" Berces, member of the Honor Council, columnist for the Old Gold and Black, Harry Gamble, president of the sophomore class, Brent Filson, associate editor of the Old Gold and Black; Bob English, vice-president of the freshman class; Chuck Jones, Business Manager of the Old Gold and Black; and Duke Weeks, president of Beta Beta Beta, honorary biology fraternity.

Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity was established at the University of Virginia in 1868; Gamma Phi Chapter of Wake Forest College received its charter in 1939. Since that time, Wake Forest Pikas have become a strong brotherhood of young college men banded together for the benefit of mutual interests.

The 1960-61 school year started with an enthusiastic rush program that produced 20 outstanding pledges. Although the football season proved very disappointing, Pika brothers, pledges, and alumni followed the team to Charlottesville, Blackburg, Chapel Hill, Columbia, and even Tallahassee to cheer the Deacons, and especially Pearce, Williams, and Nation.

The fall semester saw the start of a new Pika challenge to retire its second straight All-Campus Trophy when in the very first intramural event Gary Bailey set a new record in leading the Cross-Country Team to a first team place finish in this event.

Pete Daniel and Bob Day brought even more honor to the Pika House when they were selected for Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

"Catalina" parties were held as often as possible, and the Homecoming, Midwinters, and Dream Girl week-ends were better than ever.

Throughout the year, we received guidance and advice from our advisor, Dr. Farp. It was a good year and we shall miss those who graduated. Come back to see us, alumni. You are always welcome.

With the coming of fall and the arriving of students on campus, Sigs quickly found themselves busy with rush, and under the capable leadership of Rush Chairman, Arnom Harris, a fine pledge class of thirty-three boys was assembled.

The fall and winter seasons had special significance for Sigs in the way of athletics, as All-Conference and Co-captain Wayne Wolf retained the conference punting championship in football for the second consecutive year, and as Bill Hull and Jack Tesh contributed much to the Deacon attack. In basketball, All-American Len Chappell teamed with Co-Captain Alley Hart to lead the Deacs, while Bill Hull displayed his talents on the basketball court.

Spring brought to a highlight the social year with the annual "Sweetheart Ball" in which Miss Wanny Wagster reigned as sweetheart.

There were many Sigs found in all phases of campus activities. George Williamson, Chairman of the Orientation Committee and Treasurer of the Student Body; Charlie Chatham, president of the Student Union; Bruce Filer, member of the Student Legislature; Ashley Hogwood, Vice-President of the Interfraternity Council; Dwight Pickard, editor of the Student; George Williamson, Dave McNelly, and Dwight Pickard were named to Who's Who. Sigma Phi Epsilon had its beginning at the University of Richmond in 1901 when a group of twelve young men began an organization known as the Saturday Night Club. As the group became better organized, they were later recognized as the first Sigma Phi Epsilon Chapter.

The Zeta Chapter at Wake Forest was organized on April 19, 1940. Since that time, the fraternity has experienced many happy and successful years, with 1960-61 being no exception.

The Sig Eps are proud of its representation on the Varsity Football Squad by Skippon, Ruby, McCreary, Morris, Hartman, McDuffie, and Shendow. The pledge class, totaling thirty-six men, also had several promising freshmen football players. Sig Eps are equally represented on the baseball diamond by Galehouse, Wilner, and Muller. In intramural sports we captured the Basketball championship. We were also victorious in track and handball.

Galehouse, our Vice-President, was president of the Senior Class, elected to ODK, and Who's Who. The Howler was co-edited by Phelps, who was assisted by Fudy and Gross.

Besides several small fraternity parties, the main social events were the Holiday Ball, Homecoming weekend, Sweetheart Ball, the "Roman Holiday" party, and the Sig Ep Ball.

Alpha Nu Chapter of Sigma Pi Fraternity had an eventful 1960-61 school year. Several brothers began the year by attending a convocation held in Williamsburg, Virginia. After the Clemson football game a dinner-dance for pledges was held at the Moose Lodge, with music furnished by the Saxons of Charlotte. One of our 31 new pledges was Dr. Robert G. Gregory, now our brother and faculty advisor.

We are very proud of one improvement to our house, a Sigma Pi sign designed to resist weather. Also, we installed a new television set in the den and replenished our athletic equipment with several footballs and baseballs. A paint job on the entire house in January completed the additions.

The fraternity attended the Homecoming football game and dance. After the State football game, we held a joint party with Rho Chapter from State at Glenwood Lakes.

Our annual brother-pledge football game was won by the pledges this year! The next big social was our annual Christmas stag party just before the holidays at which all the brothers and pledges exchanged gifts.

At our Orphan's party, held just before Easter, brothers and pledges entertained fifty boys from the Methodist Children's Home. The first weekend in May the fraternity went all out for the Orchid Ball, our biggest party of the year.

Coming back from a long, hot summer, the Theta Chis were greeted by a huge "Welcome Home Theta Chi's" sign and by the new president, Ed Ledford, the "Ole Man of the Sea." With pledging only a couple of weeks away the brotherhood was once more in full swing. Numerous informal parties were held for rushees and brothers alike. Both an informal and a formal smoker were held during rush. The night of worry and excitement being over, 27 new pledges began to work with the brotherhood to further the objectives of Theta Chi Fraternity.

The Dream Girl Ball of 1960 measured up to all expectations. Brother Russ Dement's fiance, Lynn Robertson, was selected as the fraternity's Dream Girl. Brother Tom Mills was named as Outstanding Brother, and Dick Burlison was chosen Outstanding Senior. The pledge class also had its outstanding member, Jim Warlick.

In November carpenters were a common sight to the brothers. The house soon took on a new face, and a new stereo was the prized addition. The annual Sword and Serpent Ball, the last major dance of the year, was held on Homecoming Weekend at the Robert F. Lee Hotel. In December boys and girls from the Methodist Children's Home joined brothers and pledges for the annual Christmas Party.

The chapter was host to the Mason-Dixon Jubilee, which entertained all the Theta Chi Chapters in North Carolina and Virginia.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Council is an organization which is composed of the ten social fraternities located on the Wake Forest College campus. In general, the IFC serves to supervise, control, and coordinate the activities of all ten fraternities. Some of the activities include setting up and enforcing rushing rules and interfraternity competition. In addition to this, the IFC serves to promote good-will among the fraternities, administration, and independents.

The IFC sponsors two of the most-enjoyed events of the year, Greek Week and the Spring Formal, in addition to the annual Children's Christmas Party and the Heart Fund Drive. This year, the IFC, in conjunction with the Student Union, decided to combine Greek Week and the annual Homecoming weekend activities. Music was provided by Billy May and Orchestra and the Four Freshmen. The Greek Week program consisted of field events, a fraternity sing, dormitory decorations, and a beauty contest.

HOMECOMING

The Interfraternity Council and the Student Union joined together this year to present to the Student body a combination Homecoming Dance-Concert. The Student Union appointed Howard Dawkins, and the interfraternity council appointed Larry Allgood to be coordinators for the organization of the dance-concert. With the aid of Mark Reece, Director of Student Affairs, the Billy May Orchestra and the Four Freshmen were engaged to furnish music and entertainment. Our football team was defeated by Duke University, but this did not discourage people from attending the dance-concert. It was estimated that the largest crowd of students and alumni to ever attend a Wake Forest dance were present.

Miss Janet Bulluck, sponsored by Delta Sigma Phi fraternity, was selected by popular vote of the entire student body to reign as 1960 Homecoming Queen. Miss Bulluck was crowned during the half time ceremonies of the game.

Fraternity men and coeds worked vigorously on the eve of Homecoming to display colorful decorations in front of the fraternity sections and girls dormitories. The Delta Sigma Phi's decoration, with the theme of "Flush Duke," won the decoration competition.

The return of the alumni has always been synonymous with Homecoming and this year was no exception. Familiar faces flooded the campus making the scene complete.

IN MEMORIAM

When Dr. Speas retired in 1959, he had served thirty-nine years as a teacher of physics in Wake Forest College from which he received his B.A. degree in 1907. During these years he made some profound impressions upon those who knew him.

He loved beauty, whether he found it in the vocal or instrumental music of his devoted and talented family, in the magnificent "mums" which he raised in his flower garden, or in what he felt to be the created order of God's universe.

He combined to a remarkable degree the happy faculty of scholar and teacher. While serving with distinction as president of the North Carolina Academy of Science, he was teaching physics to both beginner and senior with a contagious enthusiasm and genuine joy that continued through the last class he met.

When others had doubts about the compatibility of religion and science, Dr. Speas resolved all doubt about his position when he stated publicly: "We recognize that God is spirit, but a view of the magnitude and wonders of our universe tends to enhance our spiritual conception of the Maker of it. It is as natural for us to derive our ideas of God from His work as it is to judge a man by his work."

Dr. William E. Speas

Professor Claude V. Roebuck

For ten months Claude Roebuck met with the ups and downs of an incurable illness with a courage exemplified by a quiet and motivating philosophy.

During his lifetime he served in many capacities; student, professor, scholar, Chaplain, and as a friend, counselor, father, brother, and son to those who loved him.

His record is unmarked by apathy, and illuminated by intellectual honesty.

Who can explain the intricacies of a personality as many faceted as was his? Vain attempts say that he was a man whose physical pain was never as great as the pain he experienced at not being able to greet a friend, or at not being able to express an idea.

He was a man whose athletic prowess was only surpassed by his mental nimbleness, whose pointed satire was only overshadowed by his honest love for mankind, whose theology was strengthened by the fact that he felt and acted as an honest human being. He was mature yet perennially young.

He is not gone in spirit. For, as long as there remains a professor on any campus who has the ability to make a student understand and who has the ability to give a student that needed push or necessary curtailment, the Spirit of Claude Roebuck is immortal.

EDITORS' COMMENTS

Mary Gail Kuntz

Don Phelps

The old Howler bulletin board, a monthly paper placed on a tree, was for sixty-nine years the only record of Wake Forest's college life. Students gathered around it to catch up on interesting events, read the jokes and to gossip. The need for a permanent school record led to the first publication of the Howler by the Philomathesian and Euclidian Literary Societies in 1903. This book contained short stories, a play and stilted class pictures.

The 1961 Howler bears little resemblance to its predecessor. It is now the labor of many devoted people who attempt to present Wake Forest's many phases for your enjoyment. This fifty-eighth edition contains over 1,700 individual portraits through the capable direction of Mr. A. F. Smith of Smith Studio. We boast of the superior natural light photography emphasizing Campus Life at its best and the newest in color pictures painstakingly taken by photographer Irving Grigg and his experienced Grigg Studio staff. Russell Brantly and Marvin Francis have rendered invaluable help with statistics and pictures bringing the total number of photographs other than portraits to 447.

Artist Joe Murphy and Jay Morgan of Lynchburg Engraving Company are to be credited with solving the many layout and production problems. With the guiding hand of Edwards & Broughton's Joe Phelps, the Howler will use Janson, roman and bold face type with Janson italics for the cut lines and Karnak bold for the headings. A Kingscraft cover completes the technical features of this edition.

To the faculty and students who gave so unselfishly of their time and effort in publishing this Howler, we give our sincerest thanks.

To our diligent Business Manager, Wayne Fudy, who saw to it that this year's book stayed in the black.

To Peg Perry and Merle Pokempner for their ingenuity and industry as Photography Editors.

To Sports Editors Lloyd Gross and Jim Biesecker with assistance from Jack Hamric for fulfilling well a difficult task.

To Copy Editor Gladys Morgan who read typed pages far into the night and to typists Virginia Martin and Sybil Beasley who prepared it for her approval.

To Betty Bruce Howard who tirelessly wrote a multitude of unwanted assignments.

To Suzie Davis who patiently indexed the book and never refused another thankless job.

We, the editors have enjoyed publishing your Howler. The hours have been long, the deadlines difficult to meet but our reward is in your approval. We hope that it will recall your fondest memories of 1960-61.

Our best wishes!

ADVERTISEMENTS

The big step forward is

FILTER-BLEND and only Winston has it!

Also available in crush-proof box

Yes, Winston was the first to recognize that further improvement had to come in the tobacco end, ahead of the filter! FILTER-BLEND is Winston's own formula of fine, mild tobaccos specialy processed for filter smoking. That's the key to the smooth, satisfying taste that makes Winston America's best-selling filter cigarette. Try Winston!
